"The Year" is the theme for this year's Chieftain. The annual staff wishes to present to you, through pictures and words, the moments which all of us will remember long after graduation.

We only realize the value in the sentiment, laughter, and learning after we have graduated. But, through the annual, the moods and activities of the SHS students are captured throughout "The Year."

IN MEMORIAM

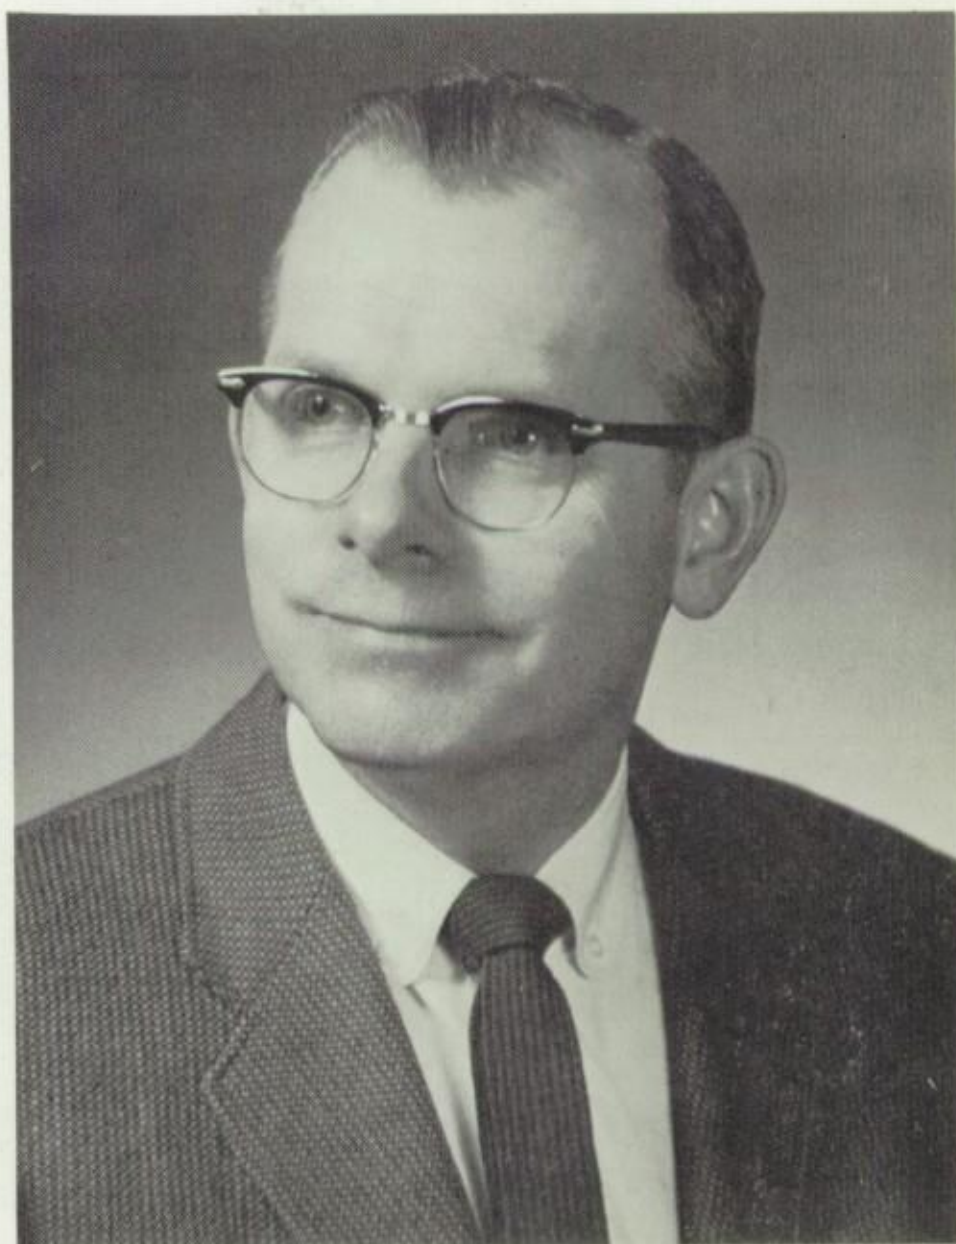

It is fitting that the students of SHS pay tribute to an active and respected person—Mr. Donald M. Sharritts. His accomplishments during his 13 years at Saranac are too numerous for any of us to count.

Mr. Sharritts made the Saranac High School Band one of the finest in Michigan. His band traveled everywhere bringing home top ratings. Under his direction the band established the annual Christmas program.

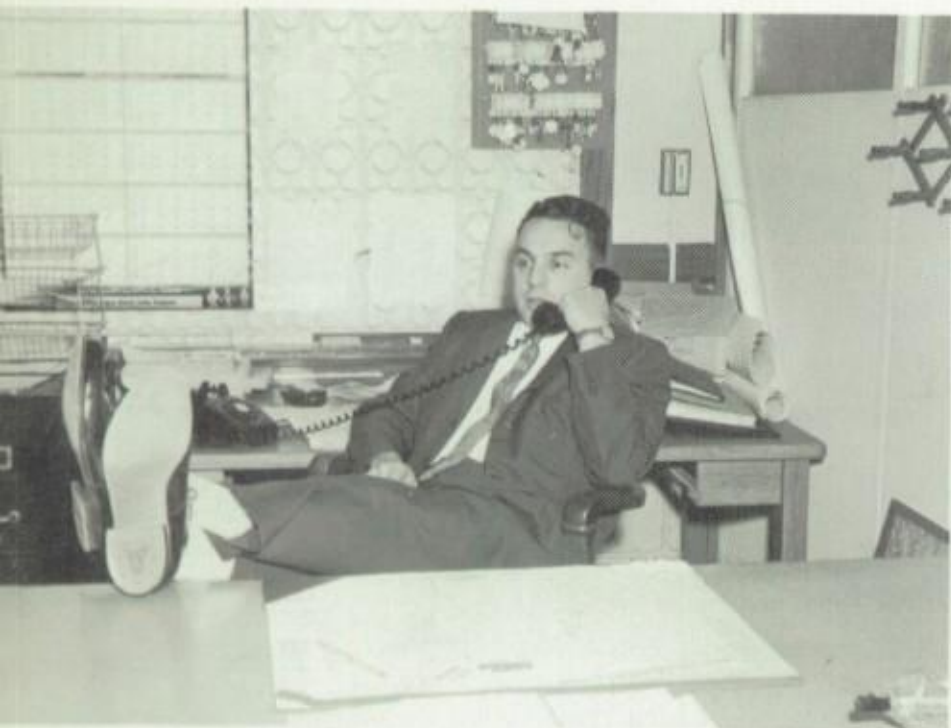

In recent years he was an active church member of the Saranac Community Church. Also, he directed the Church's choir to which he added his own fine voice.

As a principal he was respected and admired. He was willing to help any student, any time, through any difficulty. By sponsoring the Annual and Student Council and directing the band and choir, he was able to work with students in and out of school.

Thursday, September 15, 1966, he died at his home in Ohio. As long as Saranac High School is here, so will be the memory and spirit of Mr. Sharritts.

"The symphony has ended, but the melody lingers on."

Mr. Earl Cady has been Superintendent of our schools for seven years. He was a graduate of MSU and holds a B.S. and M.A. degree.

Through his own personal philosophy, Mr. Cady works hard to make our Saranac schools successful.

A new face at Saranac High this year is that of our principal, Mr. Norton. Since his graduating from M.S.U., where he received a M.A. degree, he has been both a math teacher and vocational counselor at Sexton High in Lansing for the past ten years. Now he comes to us—still helping and guiding us through our trials and tribulation.

The members of the Board of Education in Saranac are all members of the community. Each member is elected every two years for a four-year term. The general public is too unaware of the long evening meetings special consultations, complicated problems, and important decisions which are their responsibility. Their only reward is their deep interest in providing the best possible facilities and training for the youth of the school districts.

Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Hotchkiss work together while assisting Mr. Cady at the Jr. High School. They devote most of their time to correspondence, salesmen, finances, and other duties.

All through the year Mrs. Plews, secretary of Mr. Norton, finds more than enough to do by balancing books, checking attendance, running the book store, helping students with their endless flow of questions, and seeing that the office is always run smoothly.

Hats off to Mr. & Mrs. Aldrich who keep the halls and rooms of S.H.S. shining clean. They never fail to have a warm smile for us, even when we come in late after school. Indeed, S.H.S. needs them.

*Alan, Don't
Be good in the future
do any thing foolish.
Be good at S.H.S.
Good luck.
Friend Char: "73"*

Behind the scenes of SHS the bus drivers and cooks carry out the duties assigned to them by assisting us in the everyday activities of our Saranac School System.

A three year veteran at S.H.S. and a graduate of Albion College is Miss Betty Jean Abbott. She is kept busy with the Thespians, Tumbling and Trampoline, the Cheerleaders, and the Forensics Contest. Just some of her projects for this year have been contests, plays, and assemblies.

Miss Abbott believes that teaching is like a circle—a never ending form of communication and learning between students and the teacher.

Having graduated from Central Michigan University, Mrs. Grant, our home economics instructor, has been with us at Saranac for two years. Her curriculum has the over-all goal of helping individuals improve personal and community living, now and in the future.

Mrs. Grant sponsors the F.H.A. In her spare time she enjoys sewing, reading, art, walking, and traveling.

Mrs. Compagner, who is a graduate of Eastern University, has been our high school librarian for eleven years. Her aim is to help students become acquainted with the library and the many types of materials provided in it.

Mr. Dietz, a graduate of C.M.U., has been on the teaching staff at S.H.S. for two years. During this time, he has done much not only to improve the band, but also to promote school spirit with the backing of the band.

In his spare time he enjoys different aspects of music, hunting and fishing.

Mr. Haskins, a graduate of Western Michigan University, has been teaching at Saranac for 16 years. As a counselor, he hopes to help each student realize his potential for growth, learning, and development.

Besides his wide interest in young people, he enjoys golfing, hunting, and fishing.

A new face at Saranac this year is Miss Hogan, a graduate from Western Michigan University. Miss Hogan teaches eighth grade English and reading. As a special project in reading this year, each student is doing a research project to report to the class on.

When not helping her students in her classroom, she enjoys target shooting.

Mr. Laabs has received his Bachelor of Science Degree and Master of Arts Degree at Western Michigan University. He is now in his seventh year of teaching at Saranac. Acting as sponsor of the Commercial Club, Hi-Spy, and golf team, he finds himself very busy and interested not only in the field of journalism and commercial skills, but also in the field of sports.

Having graduated from Indiana University, Miss Imel has been teaching English at Saranac for two years. She is the sponsor of the National Honor Society and an active member of the community.

Her hobbies include knitting, reading, cooking and playing bridge.

Our new U.S. history, government, and sociology and economics teacher this year is Mr. Lada. He attended school at Central Michigan University, University of Michigan, and the University of Illinois Graduate College. He hopes his students will acquire critical thinking and that they will become better informed about the past and present history.

His favorite pastimes are camping, politics, reading, and folboting.

Mr. Lepien is a graduate of Central Michigan University. He has been teaching the Industrial Arts at Saranac for five years. The true aim of his courses is to become familiar with certain basic hand and machine operations and to have an understanding of some of the basic concepts of our industrial society.

Besides coaching and sponsoring the Varsity and Hobby Clubs, Mr. Lepien is an ardent hunter and fisher.

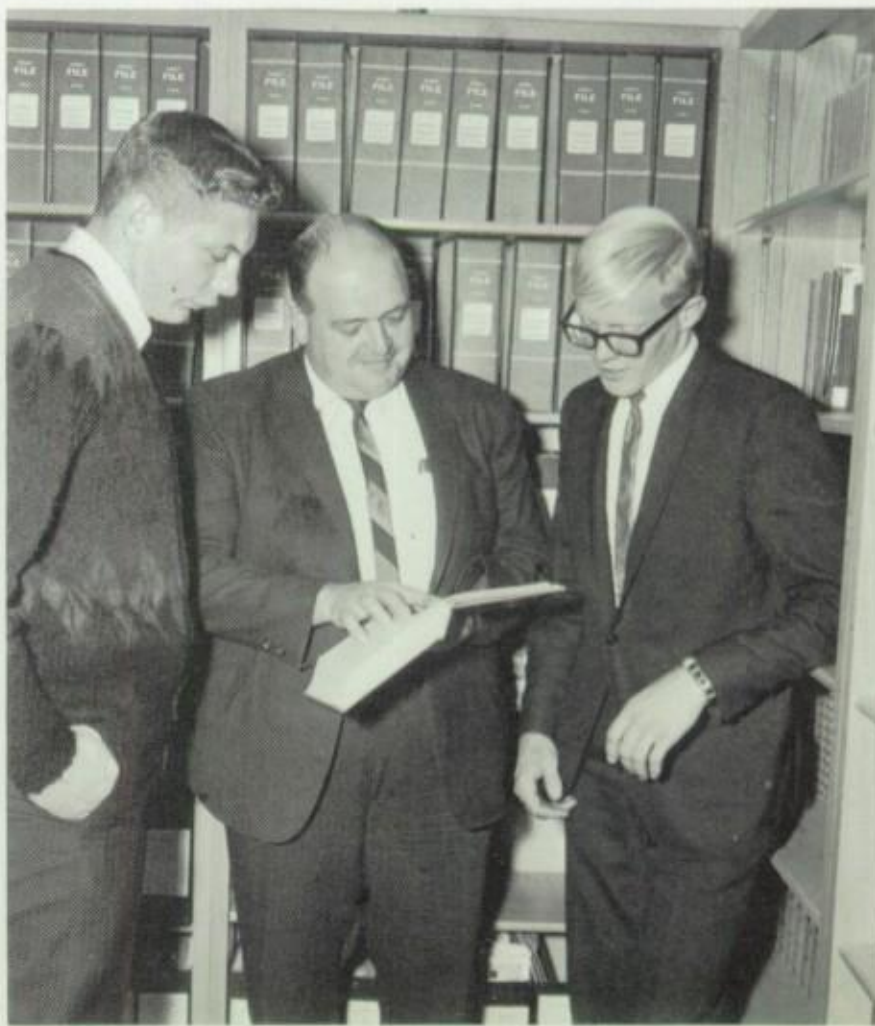

Mr. LaMonica received his Bachelor of Science degree from Trenton State Teacher's College in Trenton, New Jersey. After teaching a year in New Jersey, Mr. LaMonica came to Saranac and is in the mathematics department. He hopes his students can develop a skill to reason things out logically and a greater appreciation for mathematics.

Skiing, swimming, tennis, reading, and bridge are some of the activities that interest him.

*Allen,
Best of luck to you in your future years at
S.H.S.
Mr. LaMonica*

Mr. Plews, a graduate of Michigan State University, has taught agriculture and sponsored the F.F.A. at Saranac for ten years. He says his main goal is to prepare students to be able to fit into society on the highest level for the potential they have.

Mr. Plews enjoys hunting, fishing, and camping.

A familiar face at all three schools this year is that of Mrs. Nyland, the school nurse. She graduated from Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing in Detroit. She hopes to better equip today's graduate to meet her responsibilities as a woman, wife, and mother.

Besides sponsoring F.N.A., Mrs. Nyland enjoys reading, knitting, refinishing antiques, and trout fishing.

A teacher with the philosophy, "You're never too old to learn" is Mrs. Marie Rufner. She is a graduate of C.M.U. and has been a teacher at Saranac for 23 years. Her aim is to have each student double their reading speed while maintaining a good comprehension and at the same time increase their vocabulary.

At home, Mrs. Rufner enjoys gardening, reading, and crocheting.

Mrs. Schiewe attended school in Veracruz, Mexico. Her basic aim is for her students to skillfully acquire oral expression and the ability to read Spanish. Through teaching this language, she hopes to create a better understanding of our neighboring countries.

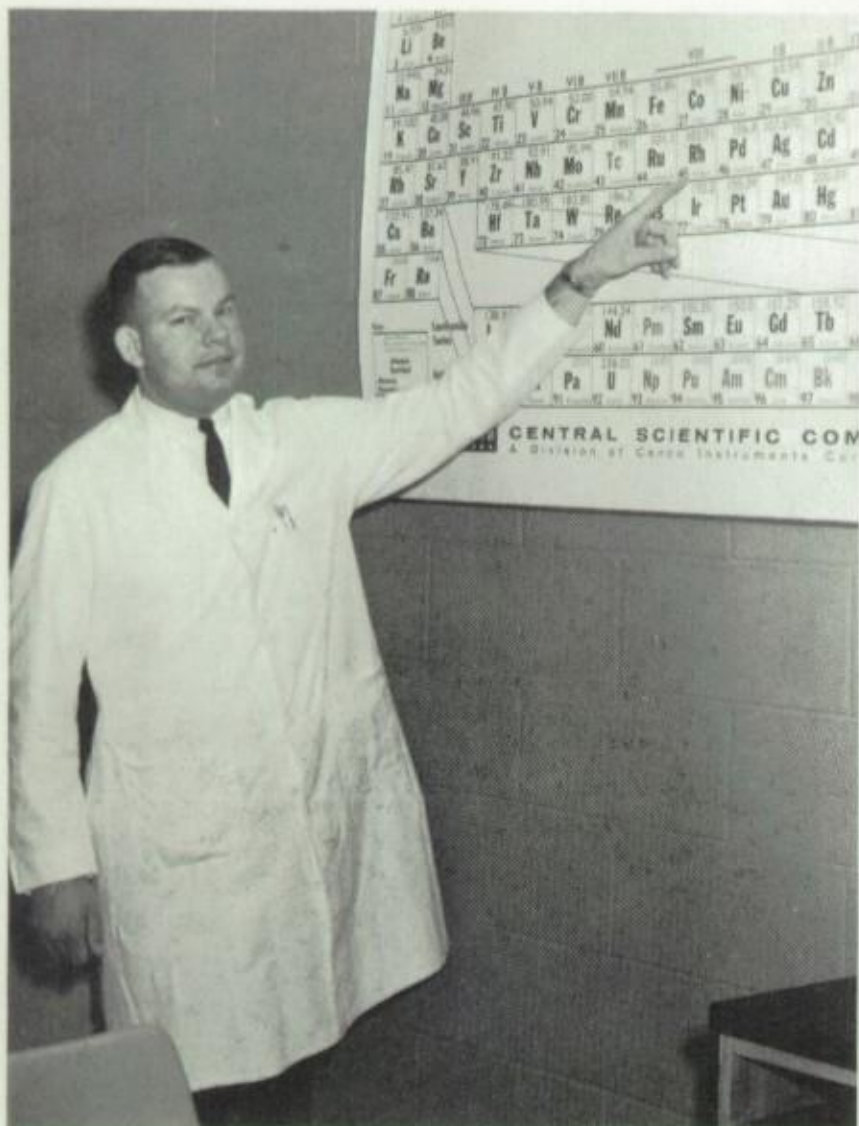

She enjoys migrant ministry and making friends.

Graduating from Albion College, Miss Taber is our new 8th and 10th grade history teacher. Through teaching she hopes to give her students an understanding of what has happened in the past so they will be able to cope with the world today.

Outside of school, Miss Taber enjoys music, athletics, reading, sewing, and sponsoring the Jr. High cheerleaders.

Mr. Sinn is a graduate of Ferris State College and is presently working on his masters degree at MSU. He has been teaching the sciences at S.H.S. for three years. The major aim of his courses is to acquaint students with an understanding of their environment and its effect on man.

He enjoys swimming, tennis, ice skating, and reading.

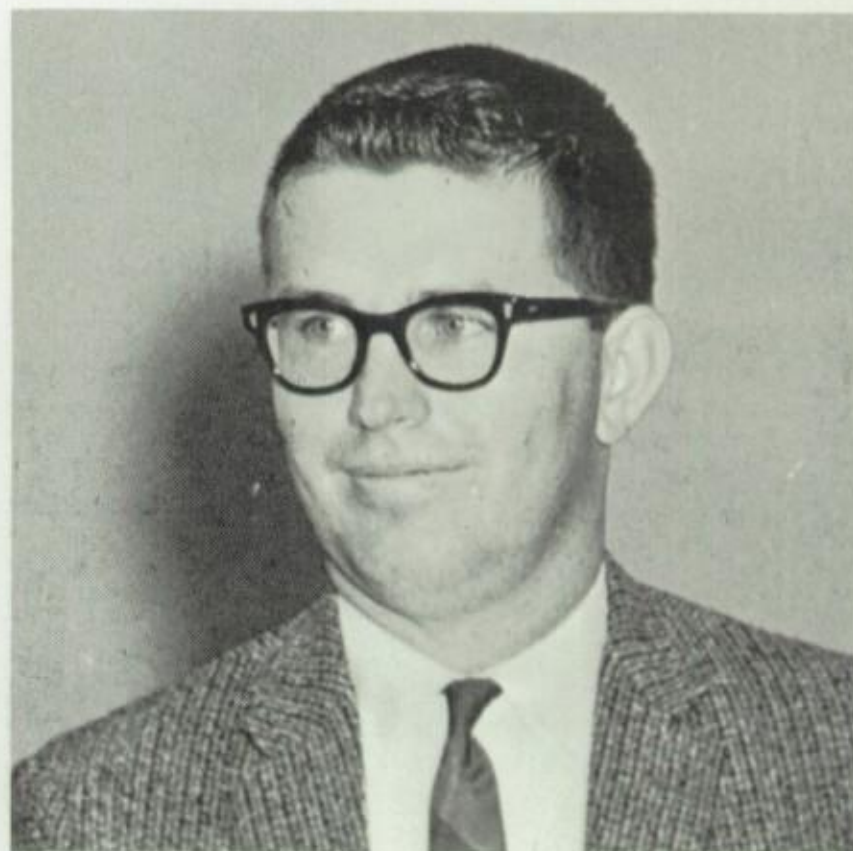

A bouncing figure at Saranac High for four years, Mr. Tiejema graduated from Michigan State University. His goal in teaching English is to help his students to develop the ability to think about human situations and to write clearly and well.

He likes to golf and to read.

Mr. TerBurgh graduated from Central Michigan University. Experiencing his first year at Saranac, Mr. TerBurgh teaches algebra I and II, geometry, and trigonometry. Also, he is on the coaching staff.

Mr. TerBurgh likes to hunt and to fish in his spare time.

Mr. TerBurgh

The general science and boy's physical education teacher is Rev. Frank. He wants his students to discover the physical world in order to respect it, understanding it, and use it.

Many students have become better acquainted with him through the club he sponsors, Campus Life. Rev. Frank likes archeology and playing the trumpet.

Classes

The following eleven pages are about to unlock to you the industrial, skillful, and hardworking faces of the S.H.S. students. With each new year students come closer to attaining their goals and contemplating what destiny the future holds. The key to their future lies in their willingness to use the opportunities offered to them.

Some classes are long and dreary but time is found occasionally for relaxation and foolish chaos.

As you see, the students in English 12 possess a great amount of attentiveness and a great deal of concentration on their studies.

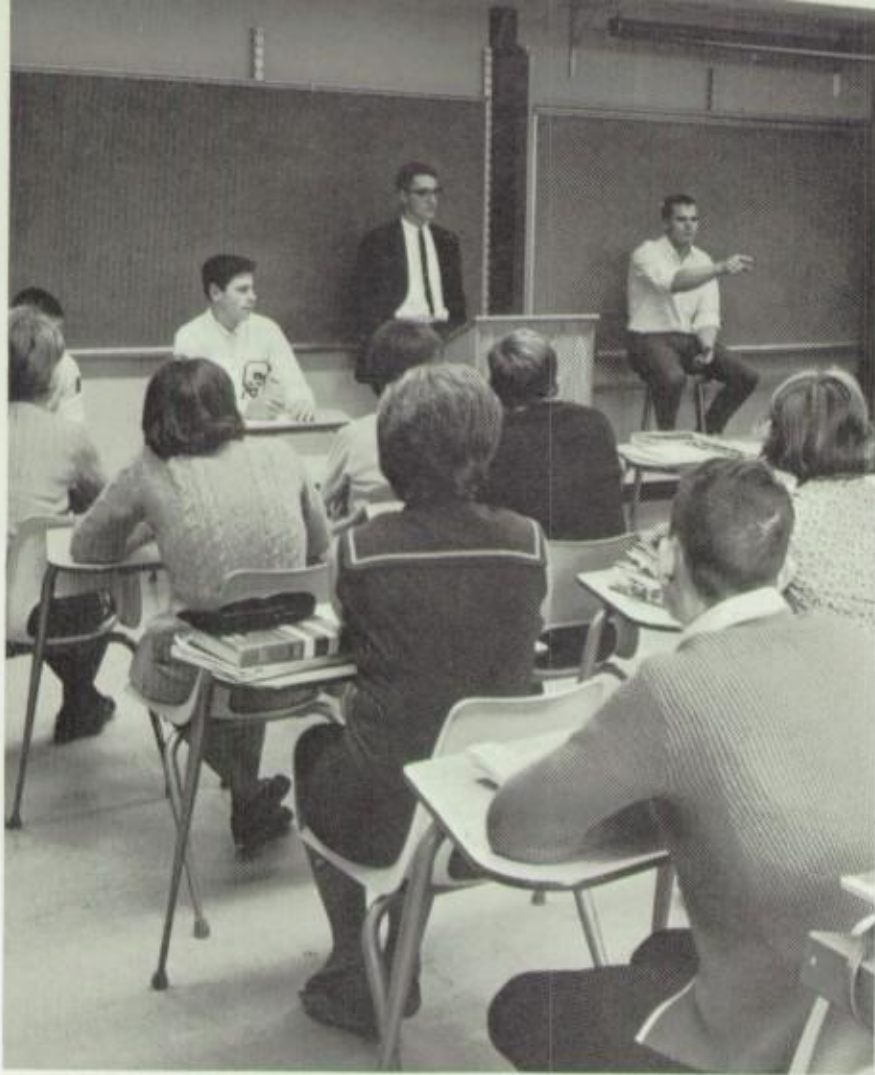

While preparing a student for the future, English 11-12 concentrates on complex written material. In addition, it gives students a peak behind the scenes of every period of literature, ranging from the Anglo-Saxon Period to the Twentieth Century.

Familiarity with words, English literature and writing clearly and well; these are emphasized most in English 9-10. Also, use of grammar exercised when each student is assigned a specific project pertaining to previous studies.

Students who need more experience in the field of English learn more about grammar, literature, and speech in communications skills.

The problems facing the American society today are many. Government this year is accented by the learning of how these problems are met. Mr. Lada has also stressed the importance of the place of political platforms, campaigns, and elections.

Here is the class as it is taking a Student's Current Events Quiz.

"A government of the people, by the people, for the people . . ."
This is part of the foundation and history of our United States. Students of U.S. History are taught of this foundation and history.

Through discussion of social problems students are taught to recognize and understand the social and economical problems in our society today. Exercising their desire to learn of social problems, the students took a field trip to Coldwater, Michigan.

By learning and understanding our past history which includes victory as well as defeat, students in world history can better understand the world today.

To speak and listen effectively in order to insure better communication and uphold our democracy are among the aims of the students in the speech classes.

Students will also have a chance to demonstrate their knowledge of various subjects and will find enjoyment in discussing their ideas with their fellow classmates.

Accelerated reading classes concentrate on speed, comprehension, vocabulary, and a wider reading range. Another aim is to enjoy reading more and be conscious of the vast worlds opened to us through reading.

Drama opens the curtain to understanding for it helps direct a student to communicate his feelings effectively and learn to observe and evaluate life.

Here is the Saranac High School concert and marching band. FIRST ROW (L—R) J. Veltman, R. Campbell, K. Fosburg, D. Campbell, D. Leary, B. Kamp, S. Pratt, R. Mutschler, L. Miller, D. Koss, V. The aims in chorus are to develop a love of music and to learn to sing many types of songs with meaning and expression.

Art students are seen portraying their moods and creative abilities.

Earth science concerns the non-living part of our environment, mainly our land forms and their affect on us.

These four students are studying the earth and some of its characteristics.

Biology students learn the possibilities and hypotheses involved in man's biological standpoint of how the first living thing evolved.

The central nucleus of physics class is encircled by mechanics, electricity, heat, sound, and light.

The goal of these students is to learn the effects of reactions, the importance of elements in our daily lives, and the importance of proficiency in the math of chemistry.

Stumbling into a new adventure students of Algebra I are taught to face and conquer the first essential steps of algebra; its properties and laws. During their journey they are faced with the problem of understanding and solving equations, inequalities, integers, rational numbers, irrational numbers, and unifying numbers in the entire field of mathematics through sets.

In working with proofs, geometry students learn to think clearer and to become more proficient.

General math concentrates on reviewing the basic principles of math and learning these basics in greater detail.

Trigonometry is the branch of mathematics which deals with the relations among the angles and sides of a triangle and the relations among these angles.

General Business gives these students an understanding of business in our world today.

Room 109, better known as the T.A. room or student lounge, is usually crowded with typists, students using adding machines, Hi-Spy workers, Annual editors, Mr. Laabs trying to keep it straight, club members holding meetings, sign makers, and other numerous stragglers.

The goal of any gym class is to become socially adjusted and physically fit ... 1-2-3-4. This boy's physical education class is always on it toes.

Ranging from dramatics to anatomy, the research project class offers a new chance for individual students to broaden their knowledge of each one's selected project.

A new class offered this year is nursing. Students learn all about the body parts and their functions. This class is not only for prospective nurses but also one that is beneficial to all students who want to learn more about first aid.

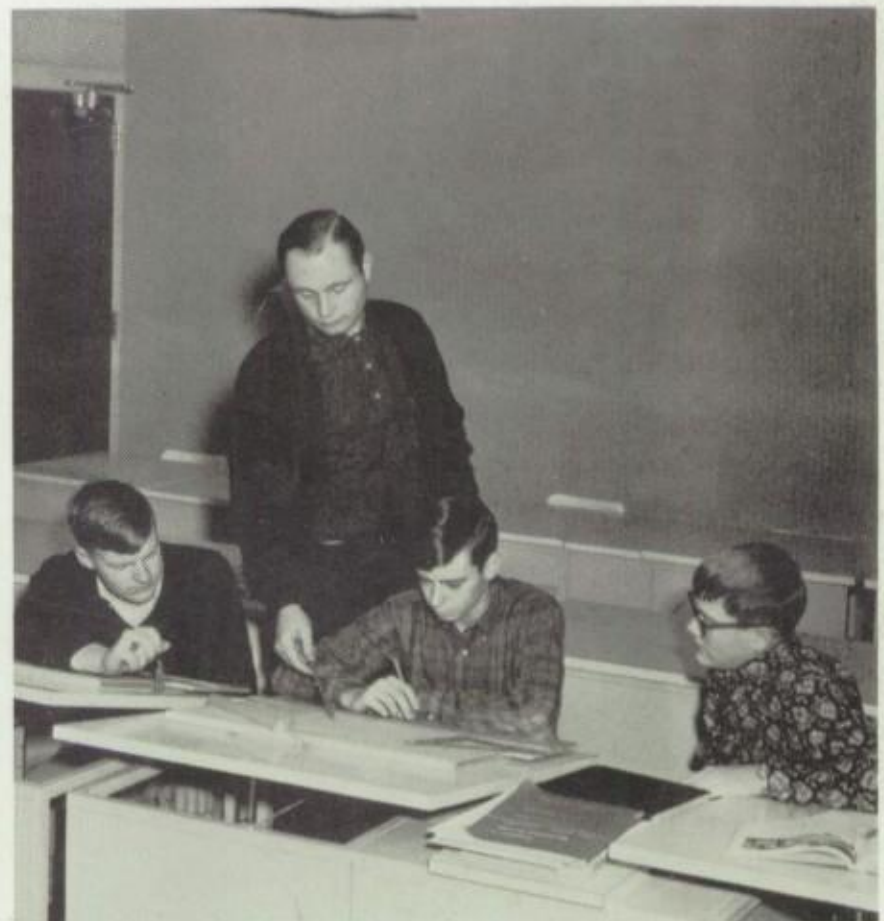

With a growing field cropping up before them, students of agriculture are prepared not only for agriculture and its branching elements but also for our growing society.

Home economics class helps etch in the minds of its students a picture of what is needed in our growing, demanding society of today. The curriculum tries to shade in tones of this picture by offering experiences based on the needs of the learner.

Through continuous practice and drilling, students of shop class become familiar with certain basic hand and machine operations.

Mr. Lepien looks on his advanced students in mechanical drawing as they decide what their next project will be.

Through study of business machines, bookkeeping, and terminology, students in office practice learn to prepare themselves for their place in the business world.

Typewriting II focuses on the preparation of business letters, invoices, statements, and timed writings. With a close-up lens students are taught to see their typing problems and through practice eliminate them.

Typewriting I stencils in the minds of students the primary mechanism of the typewriter and stresses the importance of speed and accuracy.

These shorthand students struggle to take down dictation, to transcribe, and finally to acquire reasonable proficiency in typing their letters.

Students find the library a needed source for book reports, projects, term papers, studying, and pleasure. The library is under the supervision of Mrs. Campagner who is always busy helping students.

Mr. Haskin's counseling advice has been very influential and helpful to our lives.

Spanish is the only foreign language offered at S.H.S. this year. There are 28 muchachos and muchachas taking this course. Mrs. Schiewe adds much variety to her class with songs, skits, trips, and numerous Spanish customs.

Organizations

The Student Council is the center connection of all the classes and clubs. The Student Council works to promote the activities and purposes of each class or club.

Nearly every student belongs to some type of organization in our school. Those who do belong to some organization learn more about different fields of life when they are active in a club, class, or organization.

The Student Council

We, the students of Saranac High School, in order to provide for student participation in school government, establish better understanding between faculty and students, afford training in citizenship, and insure a sincere student body in Saranac High School.

After much planning and hard work, Bonnie Kietzman and Virginia Rose run off the Student Council's Christmas program.

The Campus Life Club sponsored by Rev. Frank meets every Tuesday noon. Their gatherings which consists of oral readings and discussions are for the purpose of gaining a better understanding of the Bible.

A successful project of the Honor Society this year was selling paper back books during Book Fair Week in November.

Campus Life Club and Honor Society

With character, citizenship, leadership, and service as a guiding light, members of the Honor Society not only must maintain a 3.00 average but also serve as a beacon to the student body. These students act to promote better citizenship and scholarship in the school.

Honor Society members project this light through the services they offer. The book fair is but one example. There they devoted their free hours to the selling of books and worked closely with their sponsor, Miss Imel.

Activities

Crowded halls, bottle drives, chemistry experiments, football games, pizzas, tired teachers, hard tests, and dances show the great variety in the many activities SHS students are surrounded by. Their moods range from their sloppy, goof-off activities to their long awaited dreams of a prom.

Studies take up the majority of their time but time is found for a talk in the hall with your steady or a juvenile prank to liven up the day. Even after they graduate students will long remember the fun and friends at SHS.

Running for Mayor, B. Keitzman gives her election speech to an enthusiastic crowd.

After a delicious meal the tables are cleared away and dancing erupts under the Hawaiian atmosphere.

"Some Enchanted Evening" is certainly being experienced by these couples as they dance the evening away with their date.

As the many couples prepare to leave, one final thought is given to the prom they just attended. It will always hold some remembrance whether it was their first or last.

Spring—Summer Activities

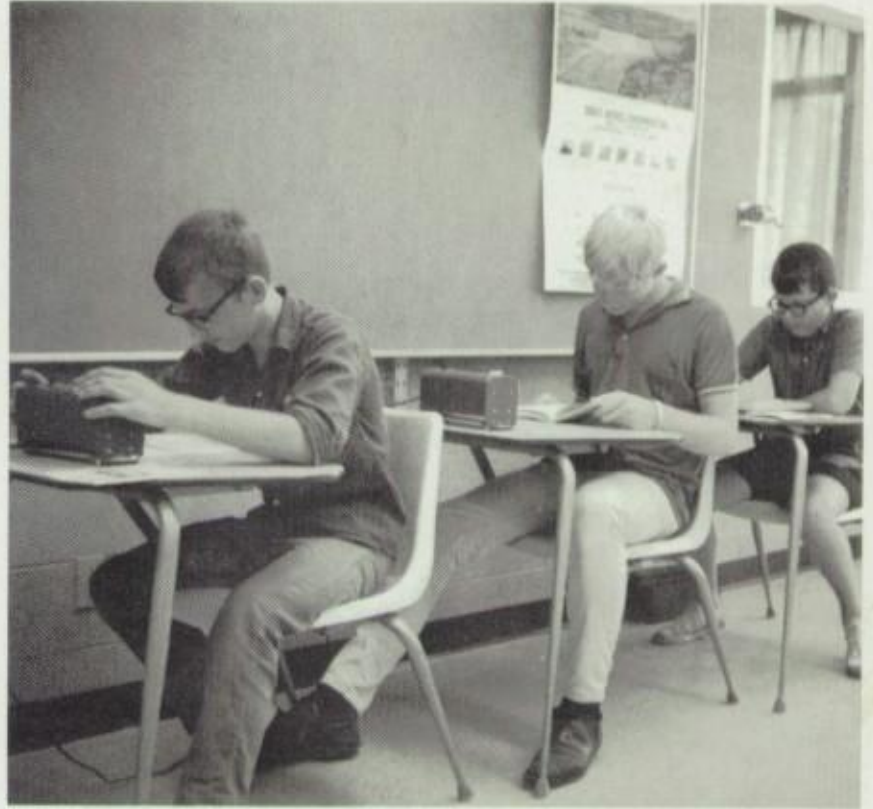

With the first sign of spring, activities both planned and spontaneous burst through a barricade of listlessness. Many glanced back over their shoulders comparing and preparing the past and the present. With a quick glance backward one could easily foresee the future . . .

In the spring of "The Year" a heavy cloud of campaigning and preparation dominates the atmosphere of SHS. With final orations done, students shuffle to the polls to express their own personal desires and then eagerly await the election returns. Of course, there is always a winner and a loser and the letdown that comes with the defeat—but the important thing is that each candidate, whether winner or loser, has tried his best and has helped to improve our school by doing so.

Then with a bang, track season begins, but all too soon its final lap is over for another season. Track seems to collapse to whispering rumors of the Junior-Senior Prom. For some the prom will be the most important event in school and holds many days of dreaming and pondering for them. Prom night soon comes with its moments of frustration, fascination, and fun that often lingers in the minds of many for months to come. However, for the seniors graduation helps erase any clinging traces of the prom. Instead graduation puts in the laps of these students not only a vision of the past with its joys and sorrows but also a vision of the future as an independent individual encompassed by an unsympathetic world filled with its trials and tribulations.

Summer then beats down on SHS, but all does not lie idle. The wheels keep turning, traveling toward a better tomorrow. Each summer driver's training, adult education, and summer school takes place. At the same time, students are taught of work in the fields of journalism and government, while participating in activities at M.S.U.

Summer School

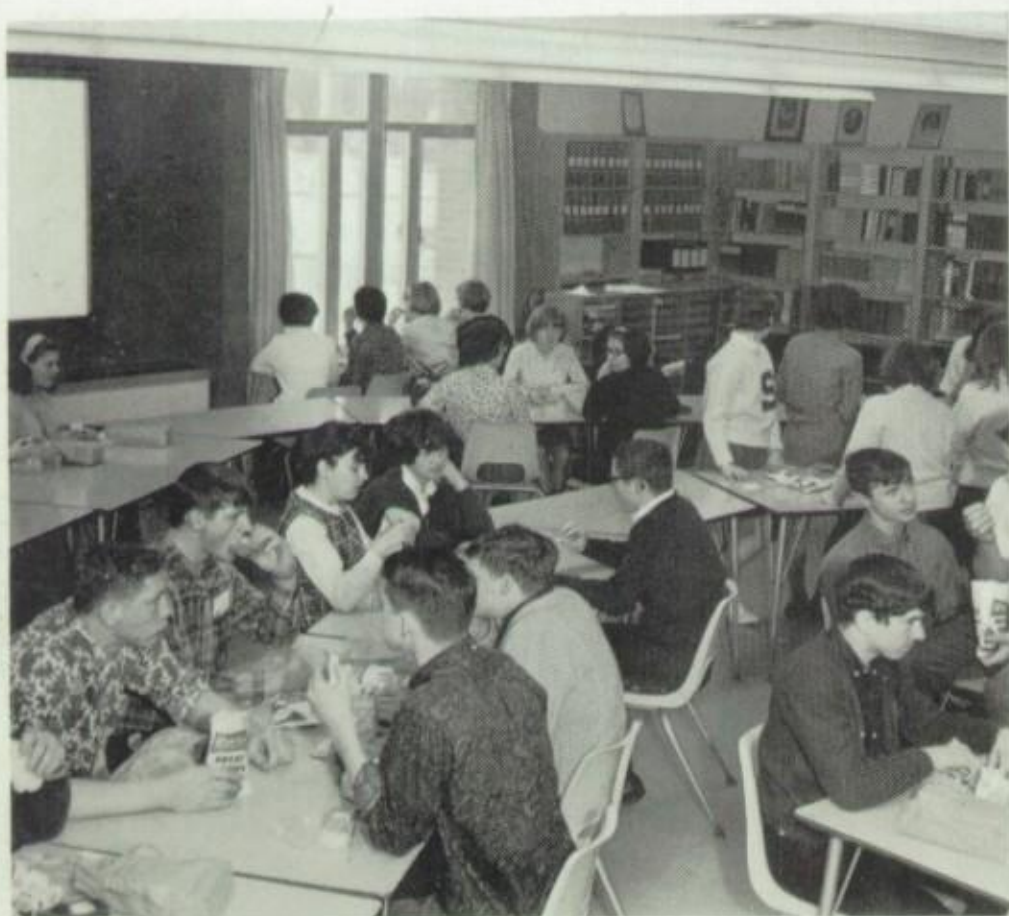

MSU Workshop—Boys State

Noon Hour Activities

For some noon hour gives sufficient time to fill an empty stomach, while others would rather gain nourishment from life itself. Noon is brought to life by these people. Simple, trite talks, musical notes, footsteps, and laughter fill the air at this time. At other times, candy sales, candied apple sales, student council meetings and short walks occupy part of the endless flow of time.

Twirp Week

Hoping to achieve success, girls are given a chance for one week in the spring to show the boy whose boss. During this amusing period of time, girls are seen struggling to follow the footsteps that a guy would normally take. With each step, girls are seen opening doors, carrying books, and cleaning lockers for the guys. Then with the Twirp Dance on its way, girls are seen, often shyly and awkwardly, going through the motions of asking a boy for a date.

Class Activities

Each class takes on many general activities . . . work days, candy sales, class parties and class meetings dominate these activities. However, with each step toward completion of high school, each class ventures forward to take over and fulfill a specific activity that has been passed down and associated with it.

Freshmen will always remember their initiation that was so eagerly sponsored by the 10th grade. For one week, the lowly freshmen, capped in hats and tagged with signs, humbly accepted and submitted to the wishes of their upperclassmen, the sophomores. The official night of initiation brought with it many moments of fun and folly.

Sophomores and juniors are next seen in a combat, fighting to see which one can reach the top of the ladder in the magazine sale. With a second glance, sophomores are selecting rings, while the juniors are watching and waiting for their class rings.

Seniors get a chance to release their tension and express their true self on Senior Dress Down Day. The atmosphere of SHS is different on this day—perhaps a little to chaotic and carefree to be an ordinary day at SHS. In the following months, seniors are seen taking in Government Day and Senior Skip Day. Seniors have always looked forward to these activities; but now with graduation being their next activity many wish the clock could be turned back to relive—"The Year".

"The Years" most important committee in the junior class is the Prom Committee. Active members of the junior class plan for the problems and pleasures that will be confronting them in the months to come.

Speaking Out

Speech is the motivating sphere of SHS. Without it SHS would be a dead, lifeless body.

Everyday students exercise their freedom of speech with friends and in the classroom. Students jokingly and seriously discuss topics in the classroom and among themselves . . . a new song or movie, the basketball game, the term paper or test, the war in Vietnam, or the death of three astronauts. Everyone is given a chance to express his opinions and desires. Each person is a motivating cog in the wheel turning toward a better tomorrow.

To keep the wheel of progress moving, every student is required to take at least one year of speech class during his high school education. A Voice of Democracy Contest and Forensics Contest is held at SHS. Not all students must enter the Voice of Democracy Contest, but all students enrolled in speech class must enter in some division of speaking in the local Forensics Contest.

There are other ways in which students can exercise not only speech but also initiative and leadership. By their own choice, students may run for an office in the school. By doing so, the government of the school is kept alive and meaningful. With each crack of the gavel or campaign speech, students are showing initiative and leadership and in return are preparing themselves for their place in the misty horizon of tomorrow.

Voice of Democracy Contest Winners

Forensics Contest

Students take over the duties of the teachers on Student Rule Day. It gives them a chance to discover the problems which a teacher encounters during a normal day of work, lecture, study, and mischievous SHS students.

Junior class President, Doug Jackson and Secretary, Terri Beukema are seen discussing some of the problems facing them concerning this year's prom, "Cherish".

Mr. Norton is seen discussing a problem the band is having concerning a time and day on which all members can rehearse.

Senior Play—Time Out for Ginger

Performance Dates—November 18-19

Main Characters—Crews

Who would ever expect in the modern world of the 1950's we would ever run into the problem of women's rights? Through the comedy of this play we see a young girl fight for her right to play football, maybe at the cost of her father's reputation.

Bonnie Keitzman and Bob McCarty portrayed the main characters in this amusing play.

School Festivities

Many common dances and activities flood SHS throughout "The Year". However, an air of regal formality falls over SHS at homecoming. At SHS homecoming is special; it's a time of gaiety and glamour, of fellowship and fun, of pageantry and preparation, of chilling winds and warm hearts, of tears and laughter, and of strained, throaty voices and floating, musical notes.

On Friday, October 14 the junior high gym was seen dressed in an array of autumn color. Many couples swayed to the musical strains of Jim Rowley's Band and watched the official crowning of our king and queen. Many will long remember and treasure the homecoming and its theme—"Magic Memories".

Frosty tints of silver and white transformed the gym for "The Snow-Ball", the Senior Christmas Dance, held December 17. In a fresh, spicy setting of wintry pine and snowflakes, couples danced to the music of "The Rougues", while other couples chose to relax and enjoy refreshments and brief talks.

Casually awaiting the official crowning of the king, members of the homecoming court are caught off guard by the photographer. Members of the court were: Seniors; King C. Grieves, S. Soloman, C. Adgate, Queen S. Theisen, S. Keigley, R. Walter. Juniors; R. Blough, L. Miller, C. Cornelisse, G. Hubbard, L. Stuart, G. Yaw.

This year for the first time, a cavalcade of decorative floats rolled unto the football field to add that special ingredient in making our recipe for a successful homecoming. The first prize award was given to the first float seen below—the freshmen float.

Sports

Blanketed under a black autumn sky, a sweating, dirt-smudged boy grasps the ball and plunges toward the goal post. "The Year" has begun and has brought with it the unveiling of a new football season.

Students and faculty alike sit on the edge of their seats, waiting for that needed injection of energy to boost our team into the end zone and into victory. As the falling leaves transform into snowflakes, the sports change also. Students now watch the continuous see-saw action of basketball and at half-time are entertained by the skilled and amusing moves of the trampoline-tumbling team.

In the spring, fascinated spectators marvel at the endurance of the track team with each painstaking, breathless move and gaze in awe as the pole vaulter sways over the bar.

Varsity Football

Underrated at the beginning of the season, the Reds soon proved their abilities by many excellent plays, both running and passing. They strived and accomplished their goal for an improved record over last year.

The team came through with a 500 season and were content with the fact that they came close in winning the other half.

Although small in number, the Varsity and Junior Varsity squads have put forth much effort and drive this year with the help and enthusiasm of their new coach, Mrs. Nyland. Through teamwork and coaching the girls drove to keep a good defensive zone.

The girl's Varsity Team took on a new spirit of enthusiasm and desire. Their determination and spirit was seen not only by the crowd but also by the Central Montcalm coach who said Saranac was the fastest team they had played yet.

At the same time, the Junior Varsity was seen working with Mrs. Nyland learning the basic basketball skills, developing these techniques and working together in preparation for the games.

Basketball

The 1967 Varsity basketball team, which consisted of five seniors and seven juniors, gave a promising look at the future. Although the Redskins lacked teamwork on offense at time, they showed a fairly tough defense. The offense was made up of a three man front with center and roving forward while the defense was mainly either a one—three—one or a one—two—two zone.

The 1967 J.V. squad gave the fans a sneak look at an up coming varsity squad. The little Reds showed a strong offense and defense, while exercising the ability and desire to develop their talents.

Golf

Coached by Mr. Laabs, the SHS golf team had a good season in 1966, although they placed fifth in the conference. This year the players hope to avoid sand traps, the rough, and all water hazards, and come up with a top rank in the conference.

The SHS '66 baseball team, coached by John Lepien, suffered from light hitting and depth but held tight scores with their fielding.

This year, being small in number and maintaining the same infield, the outlook seems to hold more experience and strength at the plate for the '67 team.

Track

Sprinting into the '66 track season, the '66 track team lived up to all expectations that the previous teams have set for the past four years. With the closing of the '66 season, the team found that for the fifth consecutive year the championship had been captured by SHS and that the greatest and most constant strength in our athletic circle was still held by the track team. In addition, three school records were broken during this same year. Perhaps the only sour note of an otherwise fine season occurred when the Redskin thinclads weren't successful at the regional meet.

The '67 track team has a big challenge before it if it is to hold tradition and add on to the twenty-five consecutive league-duel victories that have been compiled. Certainly Coach Terburgh will have a willing and ready team this year again and he must be looking forward to a very promising 1967 season.

Coaches

The coaching staff of Saranac High consists of (L-R) Mrs. Nyland, Mr. Laabs, Mr. TerBurgh, Mr. Lepien, and Mr. Tiejema.

It takes determination, desire, and patience to be a coach. SHS students are thankful not only for the opportunities made possible by these five coaches to participate in a sport, but also for their knowledge, advice, and excellent coaching.

Cheerleaders

The members of the J.V. cheerleading squad are Sharon Smith, Sue Solomon, Amy Laird, Debbie Koss, Gloria Trierweiler, Judy Hubbard.

The Varsity cheerleaders are Marti Slagh, Sonja Theisen, Sue Keigley, Shirley Jackson, Lorinda Jackson, and Lynda Miller.

Helping erupt and intensify reactions at football and basketball games as well as at pep assemblies are the cheerleaders. These girls represent and build school spirit through their own enthusiasm.

Their activities include many things besides their responsibilities at the games. They put many additional hours into practicing, making posters, and organizing humorous skits for pep assemblies. The cheerleaders of SHS hosted a cheerleading clinic and, of course, sponsored the homecoming festivities.

Band

Here the band is seen in their typical block "S" formation. Many hours of practice and concentration are put into the making of our band and its many formations. Striving for perfection, on Wednesday night of each week this fall students willingly gave freely of their time to practice for the pre-game and half-time activities at the football games.

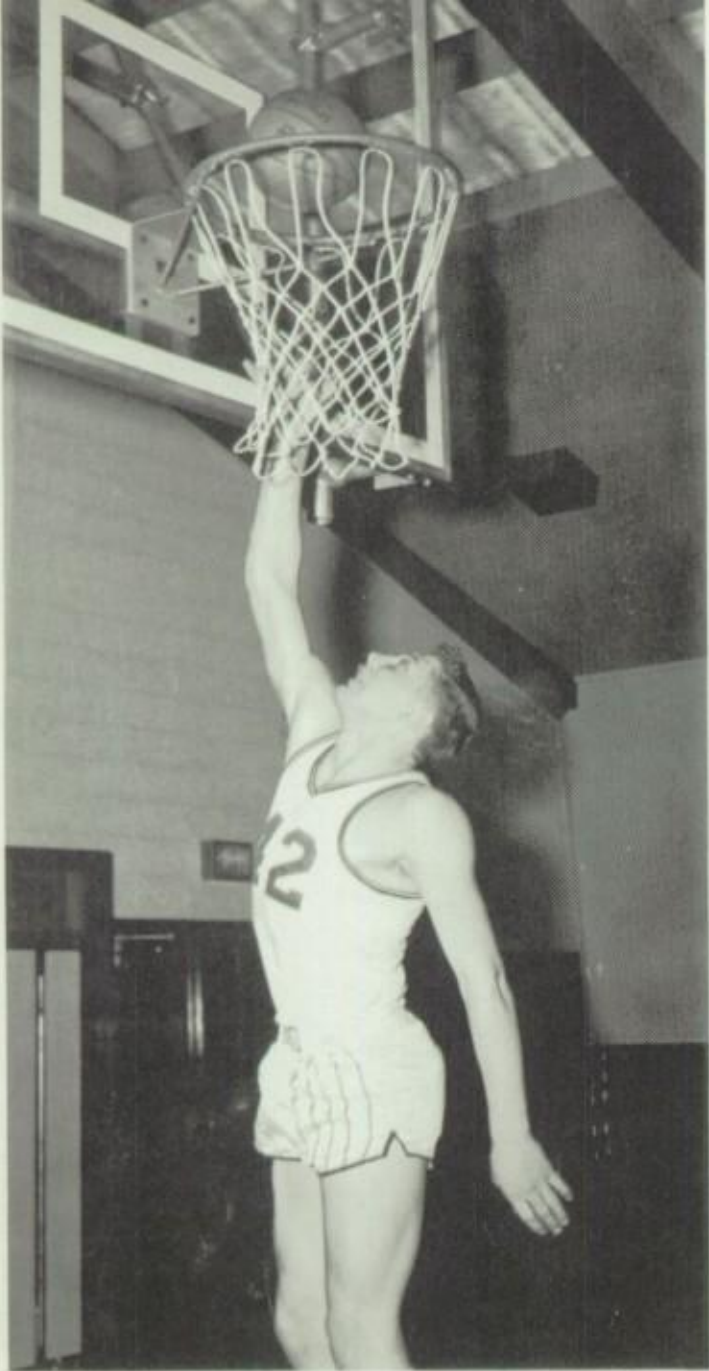

After marching many miles in summer's variation of intense heat and misty drizzle, the SHS Marching Band found itself ready and in top condition for the beginning of a new school year. The band did a fine job of arousing spirit and support for the team. Responding to the skillful training of their director, Mr. Deitz, the band delighted the crowds by the variety of their half-time shows in the fall, pep band activities in the winter and concerts in the spring.

The twirlers of SHS for this year were Ruth Ann Walter, Sonja Theisen, and Sue Keigley.

The band officers are, President, Sonja Theisen, Vice President, Ruth Ann Walter, Secretary-Treasurer, Kathie Greiner, Sue White and Deanna Campbell are in charge of the uniforms.

Students

We at SHS are people beginning to prepare for tomorrow . . . searching for the future, for the life it will bring, for the dream that it will fulfill.

For some this year, "The Year", is the end of the beginning, the year of graduation. The seniors have enjoyed their reign, but give their throne to the juniors with mixed feelings. Some are happy; some are sad, but all will miss the days they've spent here.

For some, high school is just the beginning. The freshmen and sophomores are now starting down the pathway to the future. They, too, are searching and finding the key to the future. The veiled future seems out of their view, but with each step down the pathway they are approaching it, and soon the curtain will unveil the future and its stage—life.

DREAMS IN THE DUSK

*Dreams in the dusk,
Only dreams closing the day
And with the day's close going back to the gray things, the dark things,
The far, deep things of dreamland.*

*Dreams, only dreams in the dusk,
Only the old remembered pictures
Of lost days when the day's loss
Wrote in tear's the heart's loss.*

*Tears and loss and broken dreams
May find your heart at dusk.*

Summer, with its carefree days, soon found itself blanketed under a kaleidoscope of autumn color. Crisp, autumn winds ushered in the coming of a new school year, our year. "The Year" began like a clap of thunder, leaving its mark of distinction behind. We, of the annual staff, have tried to portray this year. We know that we've not produced a book of perfection or a book that will please everyone—for we can never capture with word and picture alone the true spirit of SHS and what it held for you. This alone can be felt by you. You, as an individual, know what "The Year", with its wintry blasts and fragrant spring days, held for you. This is a part of you—a part that can never be torn or erased.
